DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the Amendment filed January 21, 2004.

Accordingly, claims 1 and 22 were amended, and claim 2 was cancelled.

Currently, claims 1 and 3-22 are pending in this application.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1 and 3-22 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: none of the prior art of record fairly suggests or shows all of the limitations as claimed. Specifically,

Re claims 1 and 22, none of the prior art of record discloses, in combination with other limitations as claimed, a reflection type display apparatus as well as a light reflecting method comprising a reflection plane being subdivided into both a first region capable of reflecting thereon light which is obliquely entered from the forward lightening apparatus along the reflection direction and a second region capable of reflecting thereon external light which is entered at a substantially right angle along said reflection direction, wherein both the lights are projected along the substantially same reflection direction and wherein the first region accounts for a smaller portion of the reflection plane than the second region.

The most relevant references, JP 10-268306 of Takei et al. and USPN 5,841,496 of Itoh et al., fail to disclose or suggest the first region accounting for a smaller portion of the reflection plane than the second region. The Takei's reference only discloses a reflection plane comprising one region reflecting both the incident light from the light source and the external light along the substantially same reflection direction as shown in Fig. 1. Meanwhile, the Itoh et al. reference discloses a reflection plane comprising a plurality of convex and concave regions, wherein light entering from different directions is reflected towards the user along the substantially same reflection direction as shown in Fig. 29.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
